Crackdown catches 'death trap' drivers

BY Raymond Brown

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

DEATH-WISH drivers are putting lives at risk by flouting the law on the A1307.

During a crackdown this week, officers caught one motorist texting a warning about the police action to a friend and another driving a vehicle in a dangerous condition without tax, insurance or MOT.

They handed out 24 fixed penalty notices – including eight for using a mobile phone and 12 for not wearing a seatbelt – and seized four uninsured vehicles.

Wednesday's action follows the release of a video to promote safe driving on the road after six people were killed on the stretch this year.

Sgt Simon Goldsmith, who is running the operation, said: "We caught one driver who had a tax disc two years old, no insurance or MOT and several other things wrong with the car.

"He thought he hadn't done anything wrong. He was driving a death trap. We have seized the car because it was in a state virtually tantamount to dangerous driving.

"We also stopped another motorist who was texting his mate up the road that there was a speed trap ahead.

"These are the sort of things we are here to detect. It's absolutely terrible how some people behave on a road that is well known to be extremely dangerous. It beggar's belief – it's deplorable."

The crackdown is part of a number of initiatives launched in a bid to reduce crashes on the road.

Sgt Goldsmith said: "It's not the roads that claim lives but drivers and that's why we are here.

"It has been a very successful day. We have taken a death trap off the road and reported several vehicles for being in a dangerous condition. We hope this sends a clear message to motorists that law-breaking will not be tolerated."

The notorious road has seen 28 people lose their lives in the past 10 years.

Safety campaign group Access 1307 has called for the speed limit along a six-mile stretch from the A11 to Haverhill to be cut to 50mph.

It also wants the speed limit reduced to 30mph through Linton and Abington.

Simon gets ready for jolly festive card sale

BY Jo Deeks

Email:

editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

AFTER almost 30 years in retail sales, Simon Dawkins is using his skills to help make sure that every item donated to St Nicholas Hospice raises the greatest sum possible for the charity – or at least gets recycled.

Simon, of Crowland Road, Haverhill, has been retail manager for St Nicholas Care for almost a year and oversees a huge 9,500sq ft warehouse in Bury St Edmunds, where donated items are sorted, sold on or sent to one of the St Nicholas Hospice shops in the district, including the one in Haverhill.

Simon visited the High Street shop this week to deliver a new range of Christmas stock, which includes the first-ever unique Haverhill Christmas cards.

A snowy scene of St Mary's Church or a humorous picture of St Nicholas getting hit with a speeding fine will be on sale at £4.99 for a pack of 10, with every penny going to the charity.

Simon spent 28 years working as a regional manager for companies such as Comet, Currys, Superdrug and Game, before a fluke accident ended his career when he broke his arm in several places, and even after two years of operations he is left with only 50 per cent use of it.

■ FESTIVE JOY . . . Simon Dawkins, retail manager for St Nicholas Care, shows off some of the charity Christmas cards on sale, including one of a festive Haverhill scene.

CP.

For four years he became a "house husband", caring for his three children, now aged eight, seven and three, but once they were all at school he became bored and looked for a new challenge. He sees his role at St Nicholas as bringing its charity shops into the 21st Century.

He said: "I wanted to use my skills to put something back into the community rather than just taking something out. It is very hectic, we have just been given £200,000 worth of brand new bags, jewellery and vases from a man at Needham Market and we will sell them for 75 per cent below store prices.

"We also sell a lot of furniture – we had three items of bedroom furniture worth £800 which went for £200.

"We use the warehouse as a central distribution centre as there is not enough room to sort things in the back of the shops. Then we send them where we think they will sell best and we have to keep our prices as reasonable as possible.

"We also recycle everything humanly possible, a total of 344 tons a year, and we reuse about 124 tons."

He added: "As a local charity we take our social responsibility very seriously and we work with a lot of organisations such as those for young people no longer in school, disability groups, mental health and long term unemployed people. Certain members of society lead very insular lives and by becoming volunteers for us they are included in the community."

Simon can supply Haverhill Christmas cards, as well as other items in the extensive Christmas range to individuals or for stalls. Anyone interested should contact him on (01284) 747610.

■ Haverhill Fire Service is supporting the Weekly News Hospice at Home Appeal by donating part of the proceeds from its 40th anniversary open day on Saturday, October 4, from 2-4pm at the Ehringshausen Way fire station.

Our appeal aims to fund a hospice at home service in Haverhill and surrounding areas, rather than patients and their families having to travel to the hospice in Bury St Edmunds.

The open day at the fire station will feature displays of new and vintage fire engines as well as demonstrations of dealing with a road traffic collision and a house fire.

There will also be an exhibition of old photographs and all visitors, including former staff and people who have been helped by the service, are welcome to attend.

Have you seen Toni?

A REWARD is being offered to anyone who returns a missing budgie to its owner.

The pet went missing from the Clements Estate in Haverhill on Sunday, August 31. The blue and white bird answers to the name of Toni.

Anyone with information should call (01440) 762395.

How can you help us hit the £40,000 target?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fundraising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal. Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible. If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause? A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842. An on-line donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Takeaway wins bid for hours extension

PLANS for one takeaway shop to stay open until 3am have been rejected by councillors – but another can now serve customers until 2am at weekends.

Suffolk police and Haverhill Town Council both objected to plans to extend opening hours at Papillon Pizza in High Street, Haverhill, and USA Chicken in Queen Street, Haverhill, citing fears it would increase public disorder problems, as well as noise disturbance and litter.

USA Chicken already opens until 2am on Friday and Saturday nights, but an application to extend this by an hour was turned down by St Edmundsbury Borough Council's Licensing Subcommittee on Wednesday. The reasons stated for refusal were to prevent crime and disorder and public nuisance.

Papillon Pizza currently closes at 11pm, but will now be allowed to open until midnight on Thursday and 2am on Friday and Saturday, subject to operating conditions.

Haverhill Town Council had objected to both applications as it already receives many complaints from the public about disturbances in the street outside the takeaways, as well as noise disturbance to local residents and litter.

In its submission to the committee, USA Chicken would agree to install a panic alarm system connected to the police, keep an incident report register and have no less than two staff members on duty after 11pm. It would also ask customers to leave quietly and deal with waste created by customers.

Papillon Pizza was willing to install CCTV, close doors and windows, not to serve children under the age of 12 after 11pm, take measures to reduce odours, improve lighting and offer free water to patrons.

Cllr Margaret Marks, chairman of the town council's planning committee, said councillors were strongly opposed to longer opening hours as they did not feel the takeaways took their responsibilities seriously enough to avoid disturbance to local residents or to deal with litter.

Soft-top slashed

THIEVES broke into a black Honda 2000 by cutting through the soft-top and stole a briefcase and a laptop from inside.

The theft happened at Betty Walk, Haverhill, between 10.45pm on Tuesday and 7.30am the following morning.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Sgt Darren Lamboll at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Cinema boss gets tour of latest site

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THE American founder of the giant Cineworld chain paid a visit to Haverhill this week to tour the inside of the town's new five-screen cinema.

Steve Weiner, Cineworld's chief executive, and Paul Willden, manager of the Haverhill cinema in Ehringshausen Way, conducted a "hard-hat" tour of the new multi-screen complex, which cost £4.2million to build and has a total of 897 seats.

The new screening rooms range in size from 118 to 263 seats and are the first to be fitted with new décor and colour changing lights, which could later be used across the chain.

Mr Weiner – who is himself a former cinema usher – said he and wife Jenny like to walk around each of their cinemas before they open and he predicts the Haverhill one will be very successful.

But he admitted the complex would probably not have been built if it had been left to normal market forces. It was only an agreement with St Edmundsbury Borough Council agreeing to pay for the cinema and rent it to Cineworld that the project was developed.

Mr Weiner, who originates from New York, started the Cineworld group in 1995 with wife Jenny after working in the industry for 22 years, many of them with Warner Brothers.

He began by helping a friend at Harvard write a thesis on cinema, who then went on to found a successful cinema chain in Mexico.

The Weiners' enterprise had humble beginnings, but were so successful in raising cash that they continued to grow and later took over the UGC group, bringing their total to 74 cinemas in the UK, with 770 screens.

He said: "It is really, really difficult to open cinemas and without this investment I don't believe it would have happened."

"We started out to provide cinemas in less attractive sites where the big boys did not want to go and we still aim to do that."

"We have some cinemas that do less well than we would like and others that do better, but generally we are trading well. We estimate in the catchment area around the Haverhill cinema there are 55,000 to 60,000 people and if they come as often as we think they will, there should be no problem."

Mr Weiner also met the 28 staff who are ready to open the cinema doors on October 10.

He said: "Staff training is very important to us. Our staff are here every day, but some people only visit a cinema two or three times a year and if they have a bad experience and someone is rude to them they can choose not to come back."

"It is very important that they have the best experience we can give them."

"I started off as an usher and no-one ever asked me what I thought. The first time I saw the chief executive he was chewing gum and I did not think he was that switched on. I try to be as hands on as I can. It had been a great ride and I don't want to get off."

A gala VIP opening will be held on October 9, but the first film to be shown is a closely guarded secret.

Course to offer healthy advice

PARENTS in Haverhill are being encouraged to find out more about a scheme to help keep their children active and healthy.

The national health MEND (Mind, Exercise, Nutrition and Do It) programme, is aimed at children aged seven to 11. It encourages them to lead a healthy lifestyle at an early age.

Programmes for the autumn term are scheduled to run in Haverhill and some places are still available.

The course has modules covering exercise, nutrition and health benefits for the mind, and children can attend with their parents.

More than 145 children in Suffolk have successfully completed the nine-week course, run by NHS Suffolk, since it was introduced in 2006.

Up to 15 children can join each programme, with meetings twice a week, after school hours, starting in line with the school autumn, winter and spring terms.

To find out more about the MEND programme or register interest, call Linda on (01473) 770007.

Bid to halt drivers' bad behaviour

ALMOST 200 fixed penalty notices were issued by Suffolk police in Haverhill, Sudbury and Bury St Edmunds last Friday during Operation Guardian – the latest day of action against illegal activity on the roads in the west of the county.

The team of around 40 officers carried out road safety enforcement checks focusing on speeding, use of mobile phones, driving while under the influence of drink or drugs and seatbelt use. In total, 35 fixed penalty notices were issued for speeding, 14 drivers were warned and one reported, 114 fixed penalty notices were issued for those driving without wearing a seatbelt and 18 fixed penalty notices were issued for driving while using a mobile phone. Seven vehicles were seized for having no insurance, and three fixed penalty notices were issued for no driving licence, and two were issued for no MOT.

Roads policing Inspector Zoe Finn led the teams on the day, and said: "The aim of this operation was to raise the awareness of offences that can and often do lead to serious injuries or deaths. Most of the drivers we stopped responded in a positive manner, they acknowledged the offence they had committed and were receptive to the advice we gave them. "I hope that by stopping these drivers, we can change their driving behaviour and their perception that they are not doing anything wrong. It is far from it. Just a few extra miles an hour, or a moment without your seatbelt on or a few seconds checking a text message, could be enough to cause serious damage to your vehicle, yourself and the lives of others. The message to drivers is that officers are out patrolling the county's roads and enforcing the law, and if you are driving in an irresponsible or dangerous way, you will be caught." Further Operation

Guardian days will be held across the county, with extra enforcement patrols being deployed from now until December to target inappropriate driver behaviour and take a robust stance in dealing with road traffic offences.

Video gives A1307 advice

POLICE have launched a video on how to drive safely on the notorious A1307.

The film, available on the website at www.cambs.police.uk, offers advice to drivers in an effort to reduce the number of accidents on the road. It shows the road as an officer drives it, making reference to junctions and speed limits.

Pc Tony Barrios, casualty reduction officer, said: "All too often roads are blamed for causing collisions when it is the drivers who are at fault.

"Clearly the number of deaths and serious injuries on the A1307 is concerning and this film is part of ongoing work to tackle the problem."

Police say the A1307 is not inherently dangerous. Pc Barrios said: "Roads themselves are not dangerous if you drive to the conditions. No one road can ever be driven the same and it is important all road users adapt their driving to meet the conditions of that road.

"The road layout is fairly straight with few bends.

"There are a number of junctions and lane changes which roads users need to adapt their driving for, by slowing down and remaining alert."

The video was given a cautious welcome by safety campaign group Access 1307.

It wants the speed limit along a six-mile stretch from the A11 to Haverhill cut to 50mph, and down to 30mph through Linton and Abington.

Esther Cornell, spokeswoman for Access 1307, said: "We welcome any attempt to improve driver behaviour on the A1307 as we know this is a contributory factor in many accidents. However, this will not help residents exit junctions with a constant stream of traffic on the main road, nor to cross the road to catch a bus."

New fast-track signs go up to stop deaths

BY Rachel Exance

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

NEW warning signs are being put along the A1307 after a triple fatal crash on the horror road claimed the lives of a father and his two teenage sons.

Drivers are being told to "slow down, take care, stay alive" along the route between Four Wentways roundabout and Haverhill in a bid to cut the number of accidents.

There were 13 deaths, 30 serious accidents and 99 slight injury accidents on the A1307 between Four Wentways Roundabout and the county boundary between January 1, 2003, and May 31 this year.

The warning sign scheme was fast-tracked by Cllr Matt Bradney, Cambridgeshire County Council's cabinet member for growth and infrastructure, following the deaths of David Bocking, 43, of Halstead, Essex, and his two sons Daniel, 14, and Stephen, 13, in July.

The nine large notices are designed to warn motorists that a high number of people have been killed or hurt and they should drive carefully.

■ ALERT ... Cllr Matt Bradney with one of the signs.

Separate boards will be placed near junctions and in between accident sites.

Investigations show most accidents along the A1307 are due to bad and inconsiderate driving.

Local councillors along the route and the campaign group have been consulted on the design of the boards.

Cllr Bradney said: "I have listened to local residents and I share their concerns, which is why I have made reducing accidents on the A1307 a top priority.

"These special notices are just one of several schemes I have brought forward, including a new safety camera. These new boards will act as a strong reminder to motorists to drive carefully. It is clear from the evidence that the majority of these accidents are caused by serious driver error."

Campaigners are calling for a 50mph limit along the whole six-mile stretch, with 30mph speed limits through Linton and Abington.

Car park to close

A CAR PARK in Bury St Edmunds is to close overnight from next Monday to tackle anti-social behaviour problems there. The long stay car park at Ram Meadow will close from 10.30pm to 5.30am, following consultation with the police, local residents and businesses, with the aim of preventing anti-social behaviour from people driving their cars around the area at high speed. The closure will initially be for a trial period of six months, to assess any impact. Large fluorescent signs have been erected in advance to warn users that there is no call-out contact, should they find themselves locked in. But the 65-space annex car park, whose entrance is to the left of the main Ram Meadow car park, will remain open 24 hours a day. It is covered by CCTV.

Town misses out as police chiefs plan to meet public

By Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

HAVERHILL has not been included in a series of public meetings across Suffolk despite concerns about cuts to the Safer Neighbourhood teams and constant changes to local inspectors.

Chief officers from Suffolk Constabulary and the Police Authority will attend public meetings next month where members of the public get the chance to raise local issues.

However, there is no meeting in Haverhill. The nearest one will be at St Edmundsbury Cathedral, Bury St Edmunds, on Tuesday, October 7, at 7 pm.

People living in Forest Heath were able to attend a meeting due to be held yesterday at Mildenhall.

A spokesman for Suffolk Police said there was only one meeting per district, and that Newmarket did not have a meeting either.

District Commander Chief Inspector Mike Bacon said he acknowledged that St Edmundsbury was a large district and he intended to hold future meetings in other parts of the district, including Haverhill and the rural areas.

Issues would be discussed from across the district at the meeting on October 7 and people from St Edmundsbury were welcome.

The meetings will include a "Game Show" style of voting session where the public can vote in helping to influence policing priorities, presentations about policing performance in the local area, and case studies on police operations that have made a real impact in the local community.

There will also be a question and answer session where concerns can be put directly to chief police officers and Police Authority members, and an opportunity to have a one-to-one discussion with a chief police officer.

Suffolk Constabulary Chief Constable Simon Ash said: "I would encourage people to come along to the meetings to discuss local matters as well as broader issues relating to policing priorities.

"I look forward to meeting people first hand so they can speak with me and my chief officer team and we can take full account of people's views as we make decisions about policing the county."

Gulshan Kayembe, chair of Suffolk Police Authority, said: "Your views are important in helping us shape the way Suffolk is policed in the future. We very much value everyone's input."

Open day at fire station

FOUR decades of fire fighting are to be celebrated at Haverhill with an open day at the town's fire station on Saturday, October 4, and three charities will benefit from the proceeds.

The event is to mark the 40th anniversary of the fire station in Ehringshausen Way, which replaced a fire shed at Swan Lane near the Police Station.

Money raised will be shared between the Fire Service Charity, the Weekly News Hospice at Home Appeal, and the Haverhill Foodbank.

The open day comes after a recent event at the station to raise cash for the benevolent fund, the Firefighters Charity.

Haverhill Fire Station is now manned by 12 full-time firefighters and 22 retained officers, using all the latest equipment, and staff have won recognition for doing more community-based fire prevention work than any other brigade in Suffolk.

The open day will run from 2 to 4pm, with a number of static displays, including new and old fire engines, two of them vintage, as well as displays by the police and ambulance.

There will be two demonstrations, a road traffic collision at 3pm, and a mock house fire at 4pm.

There will also be tours of the fire station, including areas where the public are not normally allowed, as well as a photographic exhibition of firefighting over the 40-year period.

A number of former staff members have already agreed to attend and others are welcome, as well as people who have called on the help of the fire service over the years.

Learn about volunteering

A MORNING to find out about volunteering and how to join in a Big Tidy Up event is on offer in Haverhill on Friday, October 3.

The Haverhill Volunteer Centre is holding an open morning at the Borough Council Offices in Lower Downs Slade between 10am and 12noon.

The centre works alongside organisations such as the Citizens Advice Bureau, charity shops, day centres and 3 Counties Transport, and offers training and support to volunteers registered with it.

Manager Elaine Hewes said: "Volunteering offers you the chance to learn new skills, use your existing skills, develop new interests, meet new people and become active in your community.

"Volunteering can involve as little or as much time as you wish to offer. This could be a one-off volunteering event or helping weekly or monthly, there is no pressure to do more than you wish to do."

The centre is also organising a Big Tidy Up event on Saturday, October 4, meeting at East Town Park at 10am.

Anyone who would like to find out more about volunteering or help with the Big Tidy Up should go along to the open morning or contact the office on (01440) 708444, or email info@hvc.org.uk

Special day at flower club

A FLOWER Club is celebrating its 45th anniversary in November and would like to invite past members and others along to join in the party.

An anniversary day will be held for Haverhill and District Flower Club on Saturday, November 15, at Kedington Community Centre from 10am.

The day consists of a demonstration on sugar craft and decorating a Christmas Cake which will later be raffled. Lunch will be provided, plus refreshments, and in the afternoon there will be a flower arranging demonstration by national demonstrator John Chennell.

All the arrangements from his demonstration will be raffled and there will be stalls selling flower arranging sundries, driftwood, jewellery, turned wood items, cards, books and other items.

Tickets cost £15 and can be obtained by contacting Valerie Phillips, secretary, on 0789 01689 44.

New homes target gets tougher

A HOUSING association warns that the cheapest homes in Suffolk are still 7.5 times the average income and affordable homes are hard to come by.

Havebury Housing Partnership, which owns former council housing in Haverhill, says that while house prices are falling, the credit crunch is hitting mortgage approvals.

Steve Cook, chief executive of Havebury Housing Partnership, which held its annual meeting, said: "Even though house prices have started to drop the squeeze on mortgages is making things very difficult. Havebury has accelerated the increase in affordable homes we provide, but it is difficult to keep up with the continuing rise in demand."

Havebury's annual report reveals that its average weekly rent for a two-bedroom property is £62.67, below the East of England average of £66.52.

Rent arrears for Havebury come to £725,224, which is 3.56 per cent of the annual rent roll.

Havebury has 5,700 properties under its management. In 2008 it started a programme to build 500 new homes by 2013, over 140 of which are expected to be built by the end of the 2008.

Jonathan Free, chairman of Havebury, said: "The Government targets for new homes were always a challenge. The outfall from the credit crunch has just made that challenge tougher. Havebury is ready to play its part in providing more new homes and improving services and we will do this alongside our tenants and other partners."

Roger Bolton, chairman of Havebury's Tenants' Forum, said: "The Forum has been working hard this year to broaden tenant involvement and we are proud to have launched two groups to achieve this - the Youth Forum for younger members of the community and the Sounding Board, a flexible, consultative group which aims to help improve the services Havebury provides."

Residents join Pc for a 'walkabout'

By Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

RESIDENTS of Haverhill's Cambridge Way took a walk around their estate with local beat officer Pc Rupert Beynon to make sure it was looking its best.

They were taking part in one of a series of "community walkabouts" for residents living in Havebury Housing Partnership homes to ensure their neighbourhoods are kept clean, tidy and safe.

Havebury is asking residents to join them in making their neighbourhoods places to be proud of.

Twice a year, residents will be offered the opportunity to join members of Havebury's neighbourhood teams for the walkabouts to identify any issues of concern and see where improvements can be made. These issues could range from removing litter to replanting shrub beds.

Janice Hamilton, Havebury's neighbourhood co-ordinator, urged as many residents as possible to take part in future community walkabouts.

She said: "We really do hope the residents will come out with us as we really do value their opinions. We want to work together to ensure Havebury neighbourhoods are of the highest standard and places where our residents are proud to live."

Walkabouts were also held on the Clements and Chimsell estates in Haverhill, with a further walkabout to take place at the Parkway estate in November. Similar schemes are also taking place in Clare.

Young gardeners take skills higher and higher . . .

■ UP AND UP . . . Freddie Read with twin brother William, five, take a look at the huge sunflowers.

Picture: Keith Jones 509359.

GIANT sunflowers, including some taller than the building next to them, have been grown by green-fingered pupils at a primary school.

Pupils at Kedington Primary School were given their sunflower seeds in April and have been nurturing their blooms ever since in the school garden. Many of the flowers are nine or 10 feet tall, with a row about 30ft long at the back of the school and more at the front.

Dan Woodard, head teacher, said the school had been running its own gardening club since April. He said: "The sunflowers look really impressive at the moment, the row at the back of the school is quite striking. We also have a biggest pumpkin contest going on at the moment and some of them are huge already."

DO YOU know any outstanding young people who deserve recognition for the difference they have made to the people of Cambridgeshire?

Our sister paper, the Cambridge News, is looking for inspirational stories about ordinary people who deserve recognition for the extraordinary things they have done.

Entries are already flooding in for the 2008 Cambridge News Community Awards, but it is looking for more young people who deserve recognition.

Categories up for grabs include Most Courageous Child, sponsored by The Grafton centre, and Young Achiever, sponsored by Anglia Ruskin University. Last year's Most Courageous Child was brave cancer sufferer Liam Fairhurst.

The Soham Village College pupil's fundraising efforts touched the hearts of many readers.

But do you know any other young people who have overcome adversity to achieve success against all the odds? Or do you know a youngster who has made a real difference by doing good work for your community?

Colin Grant, group editor-in-chief of Cambridge Newspapers, said: "Our annual Community Awards are a great opportunity for us to honour the tremendous work carried out by both groups and individuals in our region every day of the year."

Kedington

THE Stour Group of the Women's Institute comprising the institutes of Kedington, Clare, Haverhill, Hundon, Sturmer and Thulow, were welcomed to Kedington British Legion Hall for their group meeting. The group was also pleased to welcome Pat Collinson, the county chairman.

The reports from the institutes were, as usual, extremely interesting, and all members were amazed to hear the variety of activities undertaken. Ros Teague, the speaker, arrived with her spinning accessories, including a spinning wheel, and told that she was born in Gosport, but now lived in Norwich. She remained in character throughout, spinning, whilst chatting about various aspects of her life, food, clothes, children, life expectancy etc. and marvelled at the fact that most members of the audience had their legs on display and wore strange clothes.

Refreshments were delicious and enjoyed by all and members are now looking forward to next September when the hosts will be Sturmer WI.

■ Ketton Night Out organised by the Community Association and Ketton Players at the Community Centre on Saturday evening attracted a large turn-out of supporters and demonstrated the wealth of talent on the entertainment front that exists in the village, from the very young to the not so young. Some 50 residents spanning all age groups presented a most enjoyable evening of music, song and comedy.

The audience was welcomed by Bill Nicholls, acting as compere, along with Mike and Rose Driscoll to introduce the music, song and comedy presented by most organisations in the community including the five-strong village band known as Quaff. Accompanying the singing on piano were Paul Davis and Freda Parker.

In conclusion Bill Nichols thanked all who had contributed to a most enjoyable and successful evening.

■ Following the summer break, the monthly meetings of the parish council resumed on Tuesday evening at the library with the chairman Cllr John Cahill welcoming those present which included Borough Councillor Marion Rushbrook, Shaun Jarvis of the Wildlife Group and police community support officer Debs Carroll-Beer who gave a comprehensive report on crimes recorded in the village from June 6 to September 15. During this period six cases had been recorded which included the loss of a copper water tank, fencing, ladder and trailer, damage to a garage door handle, a stone thrown at a motor whilst moving. Heating oil taken from insecure tanks was a real problem. Oil is being siphoned off from either a tank in the back of a van or into containers inside a van. Residents are requested to dial 999 if they see something suspicious taking place.

The good news was that crime has fallen in the West of Suffolk over the year. According to the latest performance figures 629 fewer offences were committed in Mid Suffolk, St Edmundsbury, Babergh and Forest Heath districts this year. The number of offences committed is down by some 180 instances of criminal damage, vehicle crime has fallen by 120 and there has been a reduction of 125 violent crimes. A plea was made to keep an eye on neighbours, particularly the elderly and if help is needed to ring 01284 774100.

Questioned on the dangerous parking on the White Horse corner and entrance to Westward Deals, she promised to have a further look at the situation and seek the views of the residents involved in the parking. She said she would look at the situation on her way home from the meeting.

Cllr Rushbrook reported on the confusion over the Boundary Commission's proposals to create two unitary authorities based on Ipswich and Felixstowe, and the other on rural Suffolk. The consultations were still on-going. The chairman presented a letter from the recently retired library manager Jane Helliwell, which included thanks for the spectacular bouquet of flowers in appreciation of her 11 years as manager. She hoped that the plans to build a new council office would be successful.

In her report parish council clerk Marian Farrant confirmed that the views of the council had been logged with NATS regarding terminal control north at Stansted and will be taken into account in finalising the airspace proposed to be submitted to the Civil Aviation Authority.

The Suffolk Emergency Planning letter and questionnaire regarding Kedington Cemetery have been forwarded to the Parochial Church council for completion. The church council has also been sent a letter on the condition of the lime trees in the churchyard with a letter reporting that the erosion of the bank outside the church wall is not within the highway boundary. The letter also requested feedback to the parish council, but to date none has been received.

St Edmundsbury council had requested that the two phone boxes scheduled for removal following BT consultations, be removed as quickly as possible to alleviate vandalism and requested that the groundwork is made good for the safety of parishioners.

Suffolk County Council has confirmed that the order to replace the footpath sign at the bottom of Churchwalk has been sent to the contractors. At the July meeting of the PCT no decision was reached on the proposed closure of Kedington Doctors Surgery. Further discussions are planned for the September meeting. Mr Jarvis complained that vandals had damaged a stake supporting a tree on Risbridge Meadow, which he had planted in memory of his son, which could easily have resulted in the death of the tree.

At the September meeting of the Finance committee, chaired by Cllr John Cahill, the financial position was agreed as satisfactory. It was also agreed that a new heading be given to reserves by changing it to "Office Building Project" and that the £500 grant received from the locality budget of county councillor the Rev Karen Knight be transferred to that account.

The village handyman was thanked for sweeping up around the Mill Road Bridge. Cllr Cahill reported that some 50,000 horsechestnut trees across the country are under threat and agreed to inform the owners of chestnut trees in Church Walk of the threat to their trees.

Thank you letters had been received for donations to Kedington School, the Parish Church Restoration Fund and West Suffolk Voluntary Service for the Blind.

A letter of thanks had been received from Cllr Lynsey Alexander, Bury St Edmunds Portfolio Holder for Culture and Sport, in reply to a letter complimenting her team on the excellent condition of the Risbridge Meadow. She was aware that John Stimpson was particularly pleased with the work done on the meadow and had passed the letter on to John.

A number of complaints have been received from residents on the condition of the area around the youth shelter on Great Meadow which is littered with broken bottles and lager cans. The police have been made aware of the situation. It was agreed to publish a strong warning in the next Christmas letter.

Planning matters – the siting of a mobile home in the grounds of 18 Mill Road has been referred to St Edmundsbury Planning department who have indicated they will be visiting the site before making a decision on its future.

Hospital U-turn on smoking ban

STUBBORN patients who refuse to stop smoking outside wards have forced Addenbrooke's Hospital to rethink a smoking ban across its site.

Addenbrooke's may introduce covered outdoor shelters in a bid to "address the continuous problem of patients and visitors smoking outside the hospital entrances".

The hospital wants to stay largely smoke-free while showing "compassion" to patients and visitors "during times of stress".

In August 2007, Addenbrooke's went further than most NHS trusts by banning patients, visitors and staff from smoking on any part of its site. But later that month, it was revealed that many were flouting the ban.

Ruth St John-Murphy, Addenbrooke's director of communications, said in a report for the hospital governors: "Staff compliance has been good but it has been difficult to stop patients and visitors from smoking outside the buildings, many of whom congregate at the main entrance. This sends out a message to others that smoking is tolerated on the site."

Mrs St John-Murphy also said that the site "will continue to be promoted as 'smoke free' but will include the rider 'with the exception of designated external smoking areas'.

Addenbrooke's will discuss with staff whether they want to be allowed to smoke on site, in which case additional shelters would be provided.

The final decision on whether to bring in shelters will be made by the Addenbrooke's directors.

Helping hand for supportive family

A FAMILY facing the heart-breaking prospect of seeing two brothers confined to wheelchairs by the time they are teenagers has rallied round to raise cash for research into their rare condition.

The two brothers, aged 10 and six, were diagnosed with the muscle wasting condition Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy five years ago. Since then their family has raised around £3,000 for Action Duchenne, to help fund research to find a cure for the life-threatening disease, which mostly affects boys and is genetically passed on by female carriers.

Mum Deborah, 39, was heartbroken when she discovered the cause of her sons' mobility problems. Both boys have regular physiotherapy and take steroids to help keep them as mobile as possible. So far they are both still able to walk short distances.

Deborah said: "I could tell something was wrong, my first son did not do the things you would expect of a child that age and his brother started turning his feet out in his high chair."

"I had heard of the condition, but I did not know how horrific it can be. When I was told one son had it, it was a shock, devastating and like a knife stabbing your heart. My next question was, has his brother got it and he had.

"There are no drugs, no cure at present and that is why we are doing everything we can to help pay for the scientists to keep searching for one and hoping it will be in time to help them.

"They really are such happy little boys, we are just determined to make their lives as happy as possible. Everything takes them four times as long as anyone else, but they just get on with it."

Two months ago, the family moved into a new Suffolk Housing Society home in Garlands Close, Haverhill, after being involved from the start in its design to meet the boys' needs. It has large rooms with wide doorways, with enough turning space for two electric wheelchairs, which the boys are likely to need as they get older.

A plaque declaring the homes officially open was unveiled last week by Cllr Adam Whittaker, who represents Haverhill West on St Edmundsbury Borough Council, and Martin Weaver, chairman of the housing society's board.

Deborah said: "It has taken us five years to get here, but it is so much better than our old house. It is all open plan and built to cater for their needs as they get greater."

than our old house. It is all open plan and built to cater for their needs as they get greater."

Deborah, her husband Marcus, the boys' grandparents Esther and Colin, and many other family members and friends have thrown themselves wholeheartedly into fundraising in the hope that a cure can be found in time to help the boys.

Colin and Esther were due to hold a stall and tombola at the Thurlow Fayre earlier this month, but when the event was cancelled due to torrential rain they held a stall on Haverhill Market Square instead and still managed to raise £545.

The winning tickets drawn by Haverhill Mayor Les Ager were: Trumpet: green 45; general draw: yellow three, blue 34, grey 16, blue 15, grey 11, pink 32, yellow 13, blue 28, pink 25, pink 34.

Thieves' haul from home

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to DC Paul Cappleman at Haverhill CID on 01284 (774100) or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Record turnout makes race a success

BY Rebecca Findley

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THOUSANDS of relay runners passed the baton during Cambridge's biggest ever Chariots of Fire race.

Sunday's event saw 2,500 entrants pound the course, with supporters flocking to Queens' Green to cheer them on. After a record number of teams signed up this year, organisers are hopeful they will beat last year's £75,000.

The money will be divided between two local charities – Red Balloon and Romsey Mill, which both support young people.

Doug Richard, Patron of Red Balloon, kicked off the event. The Dragons' Den favourite, who lives in Cambridge, said: "I think it's a great event and every step is another pound towards charity."

Pictures: David Johnson 510966/93/58.

"We had thousands of people out here having a great time on one of the few sunny days of the year."

The Glassworks A team took top spot in 48 minutes 25 seconds, beating the record they set last year.

Will Daniels, who headed up the team, said: "It feels lovely to win – on a day like this it's perfect."

Cambridge University's Hare and Hounds team came second, in 51 minutes 22 seconds.

The Basingstoun Army Training Regiment's A team were third, in on 55 minutes 2 seconds.

Granta Housing Society were last, after two hours and 10 minutes, but won the People's Prize.

Rob Buttigieg, from Arcadis, ran the race dressed as a giant moose.

He said: "I thought it would help raise the profile a bit. It's all for fun and for charity and I thought that it would be a bit different."

Rowers turned to runners as Julie Murphy, from Cambridge's Champion of the Thames rowing team, said: "The Chariots of Fire race is the highlight of our summer. We worked really hard to get fit for this."

Julie Herron, finance director of Episys, ran the race for one of the organisation's teams, despite giving birth only five weeks ago.

She said: "I ran slowly, but I got around, as I wanted to put on a good show for our old coach Mike Vogel, who died recently."

"Episys were the top women's team in the race last year. This year the new team, Episys Team Vogel, ran in his memory and were the second women's team, behind Cambridge University Hare and Hounds Girls, which is a great achievement."

The race was organised by financial and business advisers Grant Thornton UK LLP and solicitors Hewitsons and backed by our sister paper, the Cambridge News.

Race director Charles Hewitson said: "It was a fantastic event this year with a record number of teams. It was also an excellent autumn day and we hope to have raised lots of money for these charities."

The honorary president of Chariots of Fire, Michael Marshall, chairman and chief executive of Marshall of Cambridge, joined Mr Hewitson and Cambridge mayor Mike Dixon on the stage during the presentation ceremony.

Mr Marshall, who handed out the prizes, said: "It's the best Chariots of Fire event that I've ever seen, in all the years we've supported it. Thank you to everybody who got involved."

Police seek views on business crime

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

BUSINESSES are being urged to attend a police forum on crime.

Haverhill Chamber of Commerce has invited members to attend this year's Suffolk Police Authority Business Crime Forum, on Tuesday, October 14.

The free event, held at police headquarters in Martlesham Heath, is organised by the chamber of commerce and the Suffolk Police Authority.

The forum aims to build closer links with the police to help understand the effects of business crime on local businesses and what needs to be done to combat it more effectively.

Businesses will be given an opportunity to discuss the issues that are important to them with members of Suffolk Police Authority and Suffolk's Chief Constable, Simon Ash.

There will be workshop sessions where delegates can share innovative ideas about how business and policing can work together to prevent and detect crime. The police authority will also update delegates on progress made since the last forum.

All the information gained from the forum will be used by the authority when it sets the budget for policing in Suffolk in February next year.

A reception and buffet starts at 5pm, with the forum starting at 6pm.

For more information, call Suffolk Police Authority on (01473) 782774.

The offender is described as male, white, in his 40s or 50s, 6ft 2in tall, of stocky build, with grey hair and was wearing a dark coloured bomber jacket with fur around the collar, a dark shirt and dark blue jeans.

Thieves take clubs

THIEVES broke into a waste management plant to steal golf clubs.

The offenders broke into the site at Coupals Close, Haverhill, between 6.25pm on Tuesday, September 16, and 9am the following day. They unscrewed a fence before stealing two socket sets and two sets of golf clubs.

Anyone with information should call Pc Simon Bourne at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Finley is younger

A CAPTION accompanying a wedding picture of Craig Rose and Jennie Loomes, in last week's Weekly News, stated the boy in the photograph, their son Finley, was aged three. Finley, who was pageboy on the couple's special day, is in fact aged 11 months. We apologise for the error.

Cash comes from washout

GENEROUS acts booked for a country fair have donated cash after the event was cancelled in a washout.

Thurlow Fayre was called off early on Sunday, September 7, because of wet weather, leaving organisers £4,000 out of pocket.

Money raised by the event is normally put back into the community.

But acts such as a salsa band from Ipswich put their hands in their pockets, helping to raise around £2,000.

Some parts of the fair did go ahead to raise money and reduce the losses, including the cake stall and grand prize draw.

A table-top sale will be held at Thurlow village hall on Sunday, October 5.

Thurlow Fayre Committee will also run a bottle stall during Haverhill's late night Christmas shopping on December 5.

Proceeds from this will be doubled by Barclays Bank to support local good causes.

Spiritual connection

RESPECTED Haverhill medium Dave Vye, above, will hold an evening of clairvoyance next Monday at Haverhill's Chalkstone Social Centre. The medium ran a clairvoyant evening at the centre for 10 years. He also held a development circle at his home - helping the spiritually aware practice meditation using tools such as psychometry, ribbon reading, angel cards and runes for about 15 years. He is also a qualified healer. Dave said: "Those who come along should arrive with an open mind. If you go desperately wanting a particular spirit to come through you can block energy and prevent any other spirits/messages coming through to you. "Sometimes, the messages received may need to be verified with other relatives. I recall telling somebody that they would have another child. They laughed and said 'no way, we can't have any more'. I saw them two years later and, lo and behold, they had adopted a child." The evening of clairvoyance will be followed by healing. Tickets are £3, £2 for seniors, available on the night. Doors open at 7.30pm. For more information contact event organiser Louise Matthews on 07968 077130, or pinkshrimpsdesign@yahoo.co.uk

Take a walk around Paris with lovers

PUCCINI'S classic opera La Boheme takes to the stage at the Cambridge Corn Exchange with a brand new production.

The show comes from Corn Exchange regulars Ellen Kent Opera and features performers from Moldova's Chisinau National Philharmonic Orchestra and Chorus.

Sung in Italian with English subtitles, the set, which recreates the back streets of bohemian Paris, for the new show has been put together by top London stage designer Will Bowen who founded the Almeida Theatre in 1979 and has worked with the Royal Albert Hall, Soho Theatre and the National Theatre.

The story of the tragic love affair between Parisians Mimi and Rodolpho features some of the best-loved arias in opera history including Your Tiny Hand Is Frozen.

The show is at the Corn Exchange on Wednesday, October 1 at 7.30pm. Tickets are £22.50-£32.50. To book call (01223) 357851.

LOCATED at the centre of Haverhill is bustling Queen Street, which is home to many shops, restaurants and small businesses.

One name which has been a familiar sight on the street for many years is independent business MJ Pipe. Owner Mick Pipe has lived in the town for 50 years and has been running the electrical business for 26 years.

With more than a quarter of a century spent trading in the town, Mick has seen Haverhill change, and like the town, has expanded his shop to keep up with growing demand.

The family business was established by Mick and his wife Sue who are now joined by their two children David Pipe and Michaela Cowell.

MJ Pipe sells a wealth of electrical goods to meet all tastes and prices, from fridges to ovens to hand whisks to table lamps. The business sells products by well known manufacturers such as Hoover, Neff, Hotpoint, Siemens, Dyson, Bosch and many more and offers an expert installation service. David says: "We pride ourselves on being able to supply and install most of our items on the same day or next day." Mick Pipe is part of the Euronics group, the largest electrical buying group in Europe. Euronics means that independent retailers such as Mick Pipe can wield the same financial muscle as chain store competitors.

The shop was refurbished two years ago and a new stair case was put in, which leads to the upstairs showroom. The family also decided to get rid of the cellar which according to Mick contained a few drops of water from the floods that Haverhill experienced in 1958.

After 25 years spent trading from his Queen Street base Mick has seen the town change from a small market town to the popular town Haverhill is today.

"I enjoyed the days of the market town," says Mick. "I

FOR more than 200 years Haverhill has been associated with the textile industry thanks to the Gurteen family.

Improvements to Queen Street: Have your say

People who visit Haverhill for shopping and entertainment are being asked their views on major investment in one of the town's premier shopping streets.

Queen Street, packed with independent shops and businesses, is already part-pedestrians, and St Edmundsbury Borough Council is planning to enhance the road to make it even more attractive to visitors.

People visiting the new Tesco superstore on the old railway station site will also be able to walk to Queen Street using a new pedestrian route.

The improvements to Queen Street are part of a long-term programme of regeneration and investment in the town. Work is due to start next spring.

What is St Edmundsbury Borough Council consulting on?

The following improvements are planned for Queen Street:

- Remove unnecessary road traffic signs and other 'clutter'
- Repaving works, including the creation of a central meeting space
- New seats, bins and bollards similar to those used in Jubilee Walk
- New lighting
- Gates to restrict vehicles at each end
- Landscape features such as trees
- Incorporating public art.

The council would like to know what people think of their proposals:

- Should there be traffic gates?
- Should public art be included and, if so, what would you like to see?
- Should the lighting be contemporary or traditional and should it be fixed to buildings where possible to reduce the 'clutter'?

To join the debate, please see our officers who will be in Haverhill market on Friday and Saturday (26 and 27 September) and/or complete the coupon in the leaflet which is being distributed with this newspaper. Please send in your comments by 18 October.

Celebrating 25 Years

bright textile star

Located at The Chauntry on the High Street, the factory is no longer used for the manufacturing of the fine, men's wear ranges as this is now done around the world and new uses have been found for the old departments. The former weaving factory is today the warehouse, in which ready to wear trousers are stored under up-to-date conditions.

Weaving at Gurteens began to decrease in 1980 partly due to the high cost of yarn and also due to the increase of low cost imports of woven items. Some weaving does still take place at Gurteens however, and the company still makes specialist mats including smart monogrammed items for members of the royal family, trim mats for the London hotels and even bigger mats for circuses.

Gurteens speciality is weaving customers own logos or monograms into mats.

The Chauntry site also has a museum showing The Gurteens factory through the ages which can be visited by local groups by appointment.

The Gurteens of Haverhill: Two Hundred Years of Suffolk Textiles by Sara Payne gives a full history of the Gurteens history.

Landlords must take EPC action

LETTING agent, Your Move, is urging local landlords to take swift action to avoid risking a fine which they could incur if they ignore a new regulation being introduced in October.

As of October 1, landlords will have to make an energy performance certificate (EPC) available to prospective tenants.

If not, as well as facing a £5,000 fine, it could negatively impact on their reputation and cause tenants to look elsewhere.

Darren Baugh of Your Move Lettings in Haverhill gives a short overview:

"There is only a week until the new legislation comes into effect, yet we know there are still some landlords who may not yet have taken action to have an EPC produced. We urge them to take action as soon as possible.

"From October 1, under new European law, an EPC will have to be made available to any prospective tenants even before they view a property – never mind commit to one, so it's going to have an immediate impact."

■ REMEMBER THE EPC: . . . Darren Baugh of Your Move Lettings.

Darren continues: "Basically, the purpose of the EPC is to rate a property's energy performance. It contains ratings on a building's efficiency, for example, as well as its carbon emissions and provides recommendations for improvements that can save money as well as energy.

For tenants, Darren explains, this will provide a good indication about what their yearly energy costs could be, and may influence their decision on whether to rent a particular property or not.

"There are numerous grants available to landlords to help them make improvements" Darren explains, "and sometimes the improvements may not have to be major.

"Cavity wall insulation, for example, is a straightforward, inexpensive and hassle-free way to improve the overall energy efficiency rating of a property.

"At You Move," he concludes, "we've already been able to help many landlords by processing EPCs for them.

"We not only have access to a fully qualified team of Energy Assessors, but can also offer very competitive rates to landlords."

Your Move offers EPCs for around £100.

"EVER CONSIDERED BUY TO LET AS AN INVESTMENT"

Have you been put off by insufficient funding, not understanding how tenancy agreements work, worried about the property standing empty?

"WE BELIEVE THERE'S NEVER BEEN A BETTER TIME TO ENTER THE BUY TO LET MARKET"

Consider the facts:-

- House prices have fallen by 11% over the last 12 months.
- More properties for sale than ever before
- Lots of keenly priced bargains to be snapped up.
- People need to live somewhere, if they aren't buying, they are renting
- Demand from tenants means rentals values are going up and most properties are let within 2 weeks of coming to the market.
- The investment yield/return on your money is higher.

If you've always thought about becoming a property investor but never taken the plunge, now's the time to put your toe in the water. If you'd like to talk to one of Haverhill's leading Buy To Let Investor Specialists contact Darren Baugh the Senior Manager at Your Move on 01440 707222, he'll happily meet with you and talk you through the process.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

Nissan picks up Qash + points

NISSAN'S Qashqai has been a phenomenal success – not specifically a marketing success or a sales success or a UK manufacturing success; but a plain and simple success.

It's not just a good car to drive or a useful car to own, it's an intelligent car in terms of its packaging and positioning. Drivers can comfortably upgrade to it from a regular hatchback or downgrade to it from a full-size SUV without finding the jump too hard to swallow.

Crossovers had been talked about as the "next big thing" but until the arrival of the Qashqai they hadn't really made much sense. All this, despite the handicap of having two q's and no u's.

It was only natural that Nissan would look to build on its success, and the obvious course of action was to increase its family appeal with extra seats. Enter the Qashqai+2.

Let's get one thing straight, though. This is only a full-time seven-seater if you have two young children to place in the rear. Although fully functional seats with their own three-point belts, they sit only just above floor level, meaning that leg room is extremely sparse. Too sparse for adults. However, they're still a worthy addition.

Inside there's the same degree of family friendliness. The new reshaped body incorporates a larger rear hatch that makes accessing the rear easier, the boot floor incorporates a divide to stop shopping bags playing pinball, the middle row of seats can be slid forwards or backwards and the interior has a durable feel about it.

The engines ought to be equally hard-wearing. At launch in the UK, the Qashqai+2 won't benefit from the full line-up of engines available in the Qashqai, but two-litre petrol and diesel options are well suited to the role. Both are available with either a six-speed manual or six-speed automatic transmission –

■ THE NISSAN QASHQAI+2... seven-seat crossover is quite a success story.

CVT in the case of the petrol – and Nissan expects a 50/50 split in sales between the two.

Naturally a little more raucous than the petrol unit, the 2.0dCi engine offers similar, if slightly less sprightly, performance with better fuel economy. It doesn't actually feel any slower on the road as, unlike the petrol, it doesn't need to be revved hard to find the performance. It also works particularly well with the automatic gearbox.

For a large seven-seater the Qashqai+2's on-road performance is very impressive. Sharp turn-in and confidence inspiring stability are not qualities necessarily associated with people carriers, but the Qashqai+2 delivers a genuinely carlike driving experience.

A choice of two and four-wheel drive chassis are available with the launch engine options.

Basically

A spacious and refined car to travel in, the Qashqai+2 further clarifies the crossover genre. Able to compete with MPVs, SUVs and family estates, expect it to be as big a success as the original.

MOTURING

Are our transport trends electric?

BRITISH motorists will spend a YEAR of their lifetime stuck in a traffic jam according to new research. In an average year, motorists clock-up a staggering 9.5 days in grid-locked traffic.

The dreaded commute is the biggest contributory factor, as most of us reckon we spend 140 hours or 5.8 days a year sitting in traffic on the way to and from work. A further 20.8 hours a year are spent behind the wheel for shoppers travelling to and from the local high street.

The astonishing findings were discovered in a poll of 3,500 drivers, conducted by 50cycles.com, to find out how long British motorists spend sitting in stationary traffic.

It turns out that people will spend 13 hours a year stuck on their way to doing the supermarket shop, and a further 18.2 hours a year visiting local attractions.

Another 17.3 hours will be spent stuck on the way to visiting family, and ferrying the kids to their mates while after-school clubs take up a good 14.7 hours a year for British parents.

Socialising with friends mean that people spend a further 5.4 hours a year bored and frustrated by the unmoving traffic.

In an adult lifetime of 60.5 years this equates to 575 days drumming the steering wheel in frustration while sat in congested traffic.

Scott Snaith, spokesman for 50cycles.com said: "With these astonishing figures ringing true for most Brits, it is no wonder people are considering alternative forms of transport to get out and about."

"Sales of our electric bikes are up 300 per cent on last year, signifying that people are getting fed up with congestion, pollution and increasing petrol prices."

The poll revealed that a worrying 41 per cent of drivers have experienced some form of road rage after being stuck in traffic for a long time.

Another 37 per cent have been unfortunate enough to miss important meetings, and 12 per cent say they are often reduced to tears with the feeling they may never move again.

But despite the possibility of breaking the law, 17 per cent of people still text friends while in the car and nine per cent talk to their friends on the mobile phone.

Scott Snaith continues: "We have found that electric bikes are fast becoming popular due to them being a real solution to leaving the car at home and getting from A to B in good time."

Four in 10 people have actually aborted a journey and gone home because they have been so fed up with sitting in traffic.

MOTORING

Petrol sites need a check

THINK before you fill up. Rather than driving around for the cheapest petrol station, check online at comparison websites such as the one at www.petrolprices.com.

"Supermarkets are now significantly cheaper than other outlets - 2.5 pence per litre than the UK average for unleaded," says Pete Barnao from the AA.

"Motorway service stations can cost you dearly, so save money by filling up just off the motorway."

You can save as much as 20 per cent on your annual fuel bill by practising good driving habits and making sure your car is as efficient as possible.

The optimum speed for fuel efficiency is around 56mph, but the more you speed up and slow down, the more fuel you'll use, so drive thoughtfully.

"When you put your foot down on the pedal, imagine it's a price meter," says money saving expert, Martin Lewis.

■ LINE-UP... The Haverhill Under-14 squad that opened the new season with a 12-12 draw with their Sudbury counterparts. CP

Brace for Ewans as poor run ends

KIERAN Ewans crossed the try-line twice as Haverhill ended a long run without victory by beating their Norfolk opponents at the Castle playing field on Saturday.

A good move down the left saw Adam Hunt get the first score, converted by Jake Plumridge, before Broadland kicked a penalty.

Ewans then pounced, before skipper Paul Bergin found himself on the end of an overlap to race away and score in the corner, Plumridge converting for 19-3 at half time. Mark Ransome made an impact off the bench in the second half, running in the fourth try, and Ewans completed the victory, with Plumridge converting both scores.

"We were pleased with the performance," said Bergin.

"It's nice to get the win and the confidence back. It was very promising and showed lots of potential."

Farnell and Daly cross the line

THE season got under way for Haverhill Rugby Club's under-14s on Sunday when they entertained Sudbury.

Harry Marsh was given the captain's role before the match and rallied his team in the pre-match talk.

Within two minutes, No 8 Dom Farnell broke from the scrum to score under the posts for Tom Jury to convert.

Haverhill were punished for some scrappy play and loose passing, which allowed Sudbury to score in the corner. The hosts recovered before half time as a quick penalty put the visitors on the back foot, allowing the Haverhill forwards to work well together for Sam Daly to score.

The second half was an entertaining battle, which saw Sudbury attack down the blind side from the scrum to score a converted try to bring the scores level.

In the last 10 minutes, Haverhill camped in the Sudbury 22, but could not get past some solid defensive tackling as the score finished at 12-12.

Eileen steps up to the Plate...

HAVERHILL GC's Fraser Plate, a ladies' 18-hole stableford, was won on countback by Eileen Kiddy from Sue Carr.

Both accumulated 38 points over the round, which was one better than third-placed Jackie Condon.

Scores: E Kiddy, S Carr 38, J Condon 37, L MacFarlane 36, C Heathfield 35, C Gardner 34, T Spittle 33, P Ratford, S Price 32, L Bugg, M Kendall 31, D Darbey, P Kennedy 30, A Fairhead, J Edwards, S Andrews 29, P Calmet 28, L Fish, H Eldred, M Sall, G Wheatley 27, D Walker, J Bowers 26, D Kerchiss, R Debnam 25, S Playle 20, P Wellstead 10, J Briggs 5.

■ The first of the club's men's summer matchplay competitions, the Spencer Woods Cup, reached its climax as Gordon Price and David Spittle met in the final.

Price's opening tee shot was hardly inspirational, coming to rest in the bushes surrounding the practice putting green, and worse was to come as he trailed by three holes at the turn. But the tide turned and he finally came out as a 2&1 winner.

■ Haverhill seniors did not fare well at Stoke By Nayland, where they went down 5½-2½, but their home match against Cambridge Menzies saw them gain a convincing victory.

■ The Haverhill Junior Girls' Open had a medal event as its premier competition. Slobhan Pamerter (Upminster) took the scratch prize, recording a gross 76. In the handicap, Katy Nichol (Cambridge. Menzies) returned a 72, which was too good by two shots for Emily Slater (Newmarket), and a further one back was Miranda Brain (Gog Magog).

Harriet Haywood (31) and Laura Howard (30), both from St Ives, were first and third in the stableford with Jade Morris (30), from Eaton, sandwiched in second spot on countback.

There was also a 10-hole stableford for younger girls, which went to Amy Goodfellow (Gog Magog) with 17 points, followed by Megan Howard (St Ives) and Iona Chisholm (Stowmarket).

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

Injury mars Gunners' win

FIVE second-half goals by the Grampian Gunners saw off a spirited Ely Crusaders' side 5-2 in Sunday's Cambs Colts League, Division 15A match at the Sports Field.

In a game that was overshadowed by a serious injury to an Ely player, Gunners' goals were scored by Jordan Jackson, Dale Pryke, Jacob Brown, Luke Youngs and Luke Halls.

■ WEST WRATTING twice came from behind to beat Haslingfield Colts 4-2 in their Division 12D encounter.

Stevenson (2), Bush and Lambert were on target for Wratting, whose man-of-the-match was Bailey.

■ HUNDON HAWKS ran out 5-2 winners in their Cambs Mini League, Division 10A match with Spartak, who started the sharper and took a deserved lead after 10 minutes.

Branham Ince equalised and skipper Milo Holmes' double put Hawks 3-1 up by the interval.

Spartak dominated after the break and pulled a goal back and searched for an equaliser.

But Holmes, Liam Cohen and man-of-the-match Tommy Goodwin stood firm to keep their goal in tact.

Hawks finally put the game beyond doubt with strikes by Andre Henrique and Jake Ryan.

■ WEST WRATTING notched a 3-2 victory in their Division 9A derby with Thurlow Youth.

The marksmen for Wratting were Eldred (2), and Cordwell, who was man-of-the-match.

■ GRAMPIAN GUNNERS U10 chalked up a 6-1 victory in their friendly at Coton Cosmos.

Goals by Fletcher, Thompson and Robson put Gunners in total control before half-time.

Cosmos scored after the break, but Thompson went on to complete his hat-trick and Henderson add a further strike.

Cullen's double has Angels flying

ANGELS got their league campaign off to the best possible start with a convincing victory. Their first goal came following a chase by Richard Webb, who nicked the ball off the oncoming keeper before setting up Matt Cullen to place into the empty net. A superb team goal came as some neat passing in the middle of the park was followed by a Cullen cross, whipped across the box for Sean McCormack to knock home. Blades pulled a goal back prior to the break, before Cullen added his second after skipper Matt Morrison laid the ball off from a free-kick, allowing him to strike ferociously from 25 yards into the top corner.

Richard Webb capped a magnificent performance all round as he ran on to score from Morrison's through ball.

FOOTBALL: ALL THE ACTION FROM HAMLET CROFT

Abbott miss puts Haverhill on spot

MARC Abbott failed to convert a penalty three minutes from time as Haverhill were knocked out of the FA Vase by Long Melford at Hamlet Croft on Saturday.

Mark Abbs fired the first salvo for Haverhill in the 15th minute, but his 20-yard effort went over the bar, the same place as Abbott's chance in the 28th minute.

Craig Cutts saw a shot from a narrow angle cleared off the line in the 36th minute, but it was Long Melford who broke the deadlock in the 42nd minute.

Haverhill were restricted in their opportunities as they searched for an equaliser, with their first opening not coming until the 72nd minute, when substitute Paul Jenkin's shot came off a defender's toes, and Ryan Kent's follow-up was collected by the keeper.

Haverhill Rovers 0 Long Melford 1

FA VASE, SECOND QUALIFYING ROUND

Joe Harvey had a volley cleared off the line on 84 minutes, and three minutes later, he was adjudged to have been pushed in the area, and Rovers were awarded a spot-kick.

But Abbott's penalty was saved by the Melford keeper.

Haverhill Rovers 0 Wisbech 3

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

TWO goals from corners cost Haverhill dear as they went down to Wisbech at Hamlet Croft on Tuesday evening.

The visitors took the lead after 11 minutes, when Jason Pease's free kick crept through the wall and nestled into the bottom corner of the net.

The Fenmen's second goal came in added time at the end of the first half, when Matt

Crawley, who was covering on the line, failed to keep out a goal-bound header from Stuart King.

On 61 minutes, the visitors moved further ahead with another strike, again from corner.

The ball found Anthony Reeve in the six-yard box, who was left with a simple header to seal a convincing victory for Wisbech.

The poor result left Rovers one off the bottom of the league table with just three points from six matches.

On Saturday, they face the daunting prospect of a visit to high-flying Dereham Town.

Rovers will be in action again on Tuesday evening when they have an opportunity to gain swift revenge over Long Melford.

The two teams will renew their rivalries at Hamlet Croft, this time in a Ridgeons League Cup, preliminary-round tie.

■ FOILED . . . Haverhill Rovers' Marc Abbott, who saw his late penalty saved by the Long Melford goalkeeper.
